Trace Adkins

A Nashville icon for more than two decades, Trace Adkins has made his mark on the country-music industry. 11 million albums sold. Time-honored hit singles such as: "(This Ain't) No Thinkin' Thing", "Ladies Love Country Boys", and "You're Gonna Miss This". Momentous, fiery and always memorable live performances. Grammy nominations. Even a slew of movie and TV roles have come the Grand Ole Opry member’s way.

The Grand Ole Opry (backstage)

It’s been called the “home of American music” and “country’s most famous stage.” Hear stories about the Opry and country music greats (past and present); see photos from the Opry’s biggest moments in history; take you to the artist entrance where legends, new artists, and superstars alike walk into the Opry House on the night of an Opry show. Just think, you may even have the chance to step on stage and into the famed wooden circle as generations of artists have done!

Johnny Cash Museum

The Museum opened in 2013. Experience one of Nashville’s greatest legends like never before! The Museum consists of 18,000 square feet of space including artifacts, documents, video footage and other memorabilia. Items include pieces from Johnny Cash’s lake house in Hendersonville and artifacts from the “House of Cash” attraction. The facility includes exhibits, a performance stage, and a Museum store.

Patsy Cline Museum

Though she left the world tragically at the age of 30 in 1963, Patsy Cline made an indelible mark on Country Music and remains one of the biggest names in Country history. The Patsy Cline Museum celebrates the life of the legendary songstress and features hundreds of never before seen artifacts, personal belongings, videos and much more.

Honky Tonk Row

As the Grand Ole Opry took its place at the Historic Ryman Auditorium and in music history, the nearby Honky Tonk clubs of Lower Broadway became a creative breeding ground for hopeful performers, musicians and songwriters yearning to make it in Music City. The Honky Tonks have become a must-see destination, maintaining a down-to-earth musician hangout attitude. And who knows? You might just get a sneak preview of the next big thing to come out of Nashville.

Ryman Auditorium

Known as the "Mother Church of Country Music," the Ryman Auditorium has been one of the country's premiere concert venues for more than 100 years. Enjoy an Opry Christmas Show in the home of the Grand Ole Opry (1943 to 1974).

Fontanel Mansion

This was once the home of country music megastar Barbara Mandrell and her family. Today, its home to multiple artist displays and memorabilia from artists like Kenny Chesney, Alabama, Big & Rich, and more. It’s a place to enjoy a variety of music in a unique and intimate setting; from a major concert tour, to a backyard performance by one of Nashville’s best local bands. The beautiful log home, designed by Mandrell embodies the luxurious, but family and nature-oriented lifestyle of the Mandrells.

General Jackson Showboat

Enjoy a one-of-a-kind Christmas cruise down the Cumberland River aboard the beautiful General Jackson Showboat, one of the largest showboats in the country. Fun-filled performances, chef-prepared meals and beautiful views from its four massive decks and two-story Victorian Theater!

Ole Red

Newly opened Ole Red is a multi-level 26,000-square-foot entertainment venue, with a two-story bar and restaurant, retail area, performance space, dance floor and a 6,000-square-foot rooftop featuring an indoor/outdoor bar and restaurant with panoramic views of Lower Broadway. Ole Red is inspired by Blake Shelton’s chart topping hit and is owned by Shelton and Ryman Hospitality.

Ryman Auditorium “The Ryman”

This isn’t just another nightly music venue, and it’s so much more than a daytime tourist stop. This place is hallowed ground. This is the exact spot where bluegrass was born, where Johnny Cash met June Carter, where souls were saved and a slice of history was nearly lost. It was right here that country music found an audience beyond its own back porch, and countless careers took off as deals were signed on napkins and paper scraps backstage. This is a building where anything is possible: a soul can find redemption, a crumbling building can find salvation, and an unknown kid with a guitar can find their name in lights. Why does the Ryman sound so good? It was born this way. Built to project the booming voices of evangelists and enhanced by cutting-edge technology, this room of century-old, wrap-around church pews and the signature curves of the room create a warm, clear sound environment like no other on the planet.

Nashville Night Life Dinner Theatre

The best location to visit if you love country music and country cookin’! The 300+ seat theater with a state of the art sound and light system is the perfect environment for an unforgettable night out on the town; especially if you want to get up for a slow dance with that special someone or just sit back and enjoy a great show!
